

Rep. Mendel Rivers Dies in Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, the fiery, powerful head of the House Armed Services Committee, died early today at University Hospital here, hospital officials said. He was 65.

The South Carolina Democrat had open heart surgery Dec. 11 to replace a leaking mitral valve with a plastic valve. Sunday, he suffered a series of heart stoppages, but heart action was restored, though the hospital said Rivers remained seriously ill.

Rivers' heart had stopped at least once previously, on Dec. 20, but a doctor revived him.

In a statement Sunday, the hospital said: "The persistent tendency toward this type of irregularity indicates continuation of the long-standing pre-operative heart failure."

At 1:40 a.m. CST today, Rivers died of what a spokesman said was continuing heart failure.

Rivers, in his capacity as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, ranked as one of Congress' most powerful voices for U.S. military superiority.

First in line for Rivers' chairmanship is Rep. Philip J. Philbin, D-Mass., but he was defeated in the November elections so would be chairman only for the few remaining days of the 91st Congress.

Thus, under Congress' seniority system, Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., who will be the committee's top Democrat in the next 92nd-Congress, will succeed Rivers as chairman.

Hebert (pronounced A-bear) headed the special My Lai subcommittee which concluded last summer (1970) that field military and State Department officers in Vietnam deliberately tried to cover up the alleged massacre.

Rivers betrayed no sign he was about to undergo heart surgery when he won House approval Dec. 7 of a resolution commending the Army commando raid on a North Vietnam POW camp.

Earlier that day he had been presented an admiral's field cap with "The Big Boss" and six gold stars emblazoned across it by the first planeload of 198 Vietnam GIs who got $376 round-trip flights home that Rivers had helped arrange.

With flowing white hair, the style of a Southern gentleman and an erect 6-foot-3 frame, he was the Hollywood idea of a congressman and he liked to face his debate with quotations from poetry and the Bible.

Tax Hike Is Hinted in New Budget

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. elect Dale Bumpers, with an eye on gloomy revenue increase forecasts, presented to the Arkansas Legislative Council today general revenue budget recommendations totaling $255,415,611 for the next fiscal year.

He told the council he would have more comment on the budgets—with both some additions and curtailments possible—when the legislature convenes next month.

Immediately after his presentation, he told reporters he would not be ready until January "at least" to talk again about the possibility of legislative action to raise taxes in order to expand existing programs or add new ones.

The total recommendation by Bumpers would give the state a budget $14.4 million larger than the one under which the government currently is operating.

The state Administration Department has projected anticipated revenue at $263.8 million in the next fiscal year, but $7.9 million of that must be committed to the constitutional and fiscal agencies.

Bumpers told council members his presentation could not properly be called a budget that would continue services at the present level.

Body Identified Tentatively

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Conway County authorities said Sunday night they still had not positively identified a badly decomposed body found Sunday afternoon near Plummerville.

Sheriff Marlin Hawkins said the body was found by Junior Garrett who had been searching

May Commute Basque Death Sentences

By FENTON WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
BURGOS (AP) — A military court today handed down death sentences for six persons in the Burgos trial of 16 Basque extremists.

The sentences will now go to Gen. Francisco Franco to be commuted or confirmed.

Three of the six were sentenced to death by firing squad—twice. The unusual measure indicated the reaction of the court to the last day of trial when the 16 arose in mass and tried to attack court-martial members.

There was no immediate indication when Franco would act on the sentences. The three receiving two death sentences each were Francisco Javier Izco, 29; Eduardo Uriarte, 25, and Joaquin Gorostidi, 26, who led the charge against the court. The prosecution had asked for six death sentences and more than 700 years in prison for all 16.

The sentences, if carried out, were expected to inflame leftist and student groups and labor groups across Spain.

The others sentenced to death were Mario Onaindia, 22, a mechanic; Francisco Javier Larena, 25, student, and Jose Maria Dorronsoro, 29, teacher.

Death Rate in Indochina Over Years

SAIGON (AP) — This traces the rate at which Americans have been killed in action in Indochina in the last decade:

1961—11.
1962—31.
1963—78.
1964—147.
1965—1,369.
1966—5,008.
1967—9,378.
1968—14,592.
1969—9,414.
1970—4,100-plus (figures incomplete).

The total killed in action has surpassed 44,000. There have also been 9,000 deaths from non-hostile causes, such as disease and accidents.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — CBS and NBC took care Sunday night to point out the source and circumstances of filmed interviews with two U.S. Navy pilots held prisoner in North Vietnam.

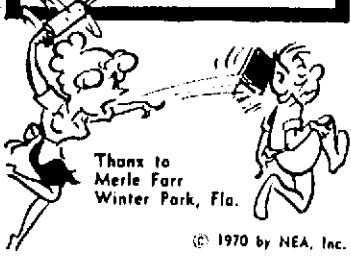

Edwin Newman of NBC and Charles Collingwood of CBS said there could be no doubt that it was propaganda. They said it was filmed under supervision of the North Vietnamese by a Canadian Broadcasting Corp. correspondent and a three-man Japanese film crew.

Still, the broadcasts were interesting. Seven Americans were shown and identified and Cmdrs. Walter E. Wilber and Robert J. Schweitzer were interviewed in the program broadcast on short notice with scheduled programs delayed for more than a quarter hour.

tree blinked in the background the two men spoke, almost casually of three meals a day, exercise periods, books to read, movies to see, trips to churches and museums in Hanoi. There were shots of their prison rooms, decorated with family pictures. Even so it was highly unconvincing propaganda, even for the uninitiated.

CBS followed it with its annual evaluation of the state of the nation by some of its top domestic correspondents. The conversation flowed freely, hitting the economy, youth dissent, racial tension, drugs, pollution and politics. It was meaty, forthright talk. Their hindsight view was grim, but all seemed carefully optimistic about the future.

"Rapping with Brinkley," which took over an NBC hour Saturday midday indicated that there is as much difference of opinion about the state of the world among youth as among adults.

Newsman David Brinkley sat down for an informal talk session with about a dozen high school newspaper editors from all parts of the nation. They were articulate, positive and informed. The subjects ranged from drugs—marijuana was a subject on which they tended to linger—to national priorities which meant different things to different students—from Vietnam involvement to educational needs. The program, in a time normally reserved for very young viewers, would be helpful to adults.

POST-MORTEM ON OFFICE PARTIES

Dear Helen:

Contrary to what some might think, office parties sans mates still exist, but the little wives blame the wrong people.

As a soon-to retire female executive, I can tell you that single secretaries and other office females don't plan Christmas "orgies."

If spouses aren't invited, look to the brass, who lay the ground rules. Even with Women's Liberation, the brass is still male. I've sat in on enough party-planning to know the nice guys who want to bring their wives get voted down about seven to one.

Believe me, older females in the office aren't enchanted by the men they work with. And the cute mini-skirted kids would much rather bring their YOUNG husbands or boy friends, than be businessman-bounced around the floor with someone else's over-the-hill husband.

The man who comes home smeared with lipstick wasn't attacked, no matter what he says. He got gooped up as some unwilling female tried to dodge his big sloppy ego-restoring kiss without hurting the boss' feelings. She should slap a vice-president?

Sure there are types, males and females, who run around with a sprig of mistletoe, but I doubt this out-in-the-open kissing ever broke up a marriage. The average office provides ample opportunity for amatory stalking without waiting for the Christmas party.

Wives who deeply regret being left out should get together and have their own parties that night (while their husbands have a fit).

Husbands who really want to bring their wives can generally do so by coughing up a few extra dollars for the party fund—or they can put in an appearance and go home—to their own festivities, as many do. A good husband-wife relation was never wrecked by an office party.

They aren't that exciting. —
SOON TO RETIRE AND GLAD OF IT.

Just try to be a little friendly some morning. She says, "Are you crazy? The children will hear!" Before I remember the kids are across town visiting Grandma, she's down in the kitchen fixing coffee.

Next, one rainy afternoon, while working the home area, I stopped at the house and merely suggested a little attention. She: "who do you think you are, Jack the Ripper? I have a washing to finish!"

Yes, Helen, I'd say the honeymoon is over!

However, being an old-fashioned husband and a firm believer in home cooking, I still love her and who can tell—there's a strange wind blowing tonight from both the north and south. Maybe, just maybe, the honeymoon is still on? —SAM

Families Say Interview Was Staged

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Antiwar statements by two American prisoners in a televised interview from North Vietnam may have been staged, according to their relatives in the United States.

Navy Cmdr. Robert J. Schweitzer, 38, of Lemoore, Calif., and a fellow Navy pilot, Cmdr. Walter E. Wilber, 40, of Columbia Cross Roads, Pa., were interviewed by a Canadian Broadcasting Corp. correspondent on Christmas Day.

The film, which showed five other U.S. prisoners who were not interviewed, was broadcast Sunday night on NBC-TV and CBS-TV.

Schweitzer and Wilber criticized the war and called for an American troop withdrawal as the first step to end it.

"He looks great on film, but that's not my impression of his life ... I'm certain it was staged," Gwen Schweitzer said of her husband after the telecast.

Of Wilber's antiwar statements, his wife Jeanne said: "I don't know his true feelings on that subject. At least I know he's fine. I couldn't have received a nicer gift." Sunday was the couple's 18th wedding anniversary.

Schweitzer's father, Fred Schweitzer of Oreland, Pa., commented that his son "obviously has all his faculties," and added regarding his statements: "If I were over there I'd do anything to get out."

The other five prisoners were identified as 1st Lt. Paul Gordon Brown of Newton, Mass.; Lt. M.L. Gartley of Dunedin, Fla.; Lt. Wilson J. Mayhew of New Manchester, W. Va.; Maj. Roger D. Ingvalson of Sanford, Maine, and Lt. Col. Edison W. Miller of Santa Ana, Calif.

Hall of Fame to Take in Foy Hammons

The Arkansas Hall of Fame will induct four at its installation banquet January 22 at the Arlington Hotel in Hot Springs. The four are Pat Summerall, Eddie Hamma, Franklin (Swede) McCormack and Wilson Matthews.

Summerall, a former Razorback, was a notable place kicker with the Cardinals and the New York Giants. He is now one of football's top "color" broadcaster with CBS.

Wilson Matthews formerly coached at Little Rock Central High and is now an assistant University of Arkansas coach.

McCormack was one of the state's outstanding athletes of the 1920s and was a fine track man and football player.

Foy Hammons ended a long coaching career with the Bobcats here in Hope where he coached for many years.

Foy Hammons ran up a 189-77-17 record in a distinguished coaching career that stretched from 1919 through 1946.

An outstanding pre-World War I football player for Little Rock High and the Jonesboro Aggies (Arkansas State), he launched his coaching career with the Jonesboro school. His peak years were at Pine Bluff, where he launched a 20-year dynasty.

From 1921 through 1925, Hammons' Zebras went 57-4-2, capped with 16-0 in 1925. The 1925 team outscored its opponents, 694-21, and claimed a mythical national championship after whipping Steele High of Dayton, O., 61-0.

Hammons' 1922 team, 12-0-1, outscored its opposition by 546-6. Leaving his Pine Bluff program secure in the hands of W. A. Dunaway, Hammons moved on to successful coaching assignments at Ouachita, Arkansas A and M, and Hope High School.

Hammons retired from coaching after the 1946 season. He died in 1961 at the age of 67.

Tournament Time for 4 SWC Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four Southwest Conference basketball teams plunge into holiday tournament action this week, hopeful of equalizing or improving on last week's 4-2 inter-sectional record.

Texas A&M and Texas Tech kick off tourney action Monday. The Aggies are at the Poinsettia Classic at Greenville, S.C. while the Raiders head across the border to Las Cruces, N.M., for the Roadrunner Invitational.

On Tuesday, Baylor is at the Citadel Tournament in Charleston, S. C. and Texas is at the Milwaukee Classic.

In last week's action, Rice ran its early season record to 4-2 with a 91-71 victory over Yale Monday and edging Southwest Texas 98-94 later in the week.

Arkansas defeated Missouri at St. Louis 91-84 and TCU slipped by Houston Baptist 75-70.

Texas Tech lost to Colorado 67-66 and Tulsa trounced Texas A&M 103-71.

No Signing But Big Fight Is Sure Thing

NEW YORK (AP) — A Philadelphia lawyer says a Muhammad Ali-Joe Frazier heavyweight championship weight fight is set for Madison Square Garden, although a spokesman for the arena calls the statement "premature."

A news conference, however, is reportedly planned for Tuesday at the Garden to announce the big fight.

Bruce Wright, a lawyer for Cloverday, Inc., which handles Frazier, said the bout was set for March 6 in New York.

"No papers have been signed yet," said Wright, "but I can't see it not coming off, with all the work we have done in the last three weeks. It's not critical for me to be in New York Tuesday, but Frazier will be there. I

49ers Upset Vikings in Pro Playoff

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers are headed for a National Football Conference championship game against the Dallas Cowboys—and it's just possible the road was cleared by a little psychology that kept them from blowing their cool in the cold.

Whether Coach Dick Nolan's pregame training plan and quarterback John Brodie's short-sleeved game jersey were all part of a planned ploy to divert attention from the frigid cold that has become an ally of the Minnesota Vikings probably will never be known.

What is known is that Nolan did not subject the 49ers to the cold of pro football's most northern outpost until absolutely necessary, that the short-sleeved Brodie passed for one touchdown and scored another, and that the 49ers defeated the Vikings 17-14 Sunday in an NFC playoff.

But, in the deliriously happy San Francisco dressing room Sunday, the suspicion grew that psychology had become part of strategy.

"Cold will affect you if you think about it," Nolan acknowledged. "There was a lot written about it."

So, unlike the Los Angeles Rams who came in here last year early in the week and lost a playoff game, Nolan didn't expose the 49ers to the cold or the writing remaining on the West Coast for workouts.

Brodie kept his troops from losing their cool over five fumbles attributed to the chilling cold and directed them to within one victory of their first championship in the 49ers 25-year history.

Despite completing 16 of 32 passes for 231 yards, combining with Dick Wither on a 24-yard pass that made it 7-7 and scoring on a quarterback sneak to make it 17-7, Brodie disdained the hero's role that the statistics pointed his way.

"Our defense outplayed their's that's all it was," said the 14-year veteran.

Following a fumble that enabled Paul Krause to scoop 22 yards for a 7-0 Minnesota lead after 6:23 of the first quarter, the San Francisco defense shut out the Minnesota offense until the Vikings scored with one second showing on the clock.

Brodie's pass to Wither tied it, a 40-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett late in the second period put the 49ers ahead to stay and Brodie slammed in from a yard out to build the bulge to 17-7 with 1:20 to go.

The victory set up a pupil-teacher clash between Nolan and the man under whom he learned his defensive theories, Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys.

association, it was Cleveland 114, Philadelphia 101; Chicago 110, San Diego 101; Los Angeles 128, Phoenix 110; Portland 135, Boston 123 and New York 110, Baltimore 105.

In the ABA Saturday, it was Indiana 115, Floridians 92; Kentucky 126, Texas 122; New York 104, Carolina 98; and Virginia 122, Denver 120.

After Barry left the game, Bill Melchioni took up the load for New York. He scored 27 points, including a crucial field goal and two foul shots in the late 67 seconds. Dan Issel led Kentucky with 38 points.

Zelmo Beaty scored 31 points and had 22 rebounds, spearheading an 80-point second half that helped Utah bury Virginia.

Gene Moore hit a layup, then tossed in six more points in little more than a minute to lead Texas over Pittsburgh.

Wendell Ladner scored a game-high 28 points despite fouling out halfway through the fourth quarter to help Memphis beat Indiana.

Two Porkers in the Blue, Gray Game

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Fifty-four college seniors representing schools in the North and South demonstrate their football skills tonight in the first Blue-Gray football game ever played under the lights.

Always before, the inter-sectional all-star show has been staged on the last Saturday in December. It was moved to Monday night this year to avoid television conflict with the pro playoffs.

An independent network will televise the game across the nation. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m., EST.

The emphasis on passing in pregame workouts by Blue and Gray coaches alike pointed to a wide-open scramble with the chance of a touchdown bomb on almost any play.

As the North's head coach, Bobby Bowden of West Virginia, analyzed it, "In an all-star game of this type, you have to be able to throw the ball, and catch it, if you want to move it."

Bowden brought his own quarterback, Mike Sherwood, to Montgomery with him to share the passing chores with Frank Harris of Boston College.

Paul Dietzel of South Carolina, directing the South's strategy, did the same. Tommy Suggs of South Carolina will call the signals when Bill Montgomery of Arkansas isn't in the lineup.

Sherwood will captain the Blue on offense; lineman Jay Wallace of Missouri on defense. Montgomery and linebacker Rick Kingree of Tulane are the South captains.

Win Costly as Rick Barry Again Hurt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Nets won one ... and lost one.

New York tripped Kentucky 114-108 in the American Basketball Association Sunday night, but it was costly because star Rick Barry got hurt again.

The high-scoring forward, who sat out earlier this season with a bad foot, sprained his right ankle in the second quarter and is expected to be lost for about a week.

Barry had 13 points before he left with 9:20 to go in the period. Elsewhere in the ABA, Utah slammed Virginia 135-119; Texas topped Pittsburgh 124-116; Memphis tripped Indiana 109-106 and Carolina turned back the Floridians 122-114.

The New York Daily News reported the fight arrangements Sunday night.

But a Garden spokesman said he did not know of any contract signing thus far and said negotiations are continuing. Houston's Astrodome also has been bidding for the bout.

Psychology Mills Turned on by Coaches

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian had a telephone conversation with Texas coach Darrell Royal the other day and put these kind words into the receiver:

"Darrell, I think you have a better football team than you did a year ago."

Parseghian didn't say what Royal's answer was but it gives you the idea that the psychological mills are already grinding for the New Year's Day rematch between the Longhorns and the Fighting Irish.

"Texas is improved at tight end and in the offensive line," Parseghian said. "And that Eddie Phillips performs as well as any guy we've seen. We thought there might be a drop off at quarterback when Texas lost James Street, but if anything, Texas is better...Awesome is also a good word."

Royal has already stated that Notre Dame should be "mighty mad" by kickoff time. The defending national champion "Horns, owners of 30 consecutive victories, defeated the Irish 21-17 in the 1970 Cotton Bowl.

Also, Notre Dame fell to Southern California in the last game of the regular season.

"We're just sorry we couldn't come in here undefeated," Parseghian said. "Texas held up its final game of the season."

Parseghian said he has noticed some changes, ever so slight, in Texas' famed triple option Wishbone-T.

"You can see some refinement evidence in their blocking," Parseghian said. "Also, they have a new fullback delay and a tackle trap."

"Nobody has solved the Wishbone for 30 games. Some people say 'Well, Texas has the personnel to run it. I don't share that view. I think you have to congratulate Texas' coaching staff for coming up with such an innovation and staying with it. They know it better than anyone else and that's why they haven't been beaten."

Texas doesn't arrive in Dallas until Tuesday.

Notre Dame came in Saturday and worked on the Cotton Bowl artificial turf for the first time that night.

Colts Have Respect for Raiders

By GORDON BEARD

Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts have nothing but respect for the Oakland Raiders, their opponents in next Sunday's American Football Conference championship game.

Speaking mostly in platitudes, the Colts nevertheless praised the Raiders after viewing their televised 21-14 victory over the Miami Dolphins in Sunday's playoff semi-finals.

The Colts, who will have the advantage of playing the title game at home, reached the championship round a day earlier by blanking the Cincinnati Bengals 17-0.

Don McCafferty, in his rookie season as Baltimore coach, had his entire staff at his home to watch the Miami-Oakland game after reviewing films of the Cincinnati contest.

Oakland and Baltimore, in different leagues until this season, have met only in exhibition games and the Colts have won all three by 2, 4- and 12-point margins.

"They don't count," McCafferty said. "This year, for instance, we played the Raiders in our first preseason game and had only one week to get ready after the players' strike ended."

"The Raiders have good linebacksers, so they may be hard to run against," said offensive tackle Bob Vogel. "And, with their good secondary, we've got to block well so John Unitas will have time to pass."

Conversely, Baltimore safety Jerry Logan praised the Oakland offense directed by quarterback Dayle Lamonica.

The Baltimore defense, at top strength again with end Bubba Smith and tackle Fred Miller recovered from leg injuries, manhandled the Bengals-limiting them to 139 total yards and seven first downs as Cincinnati crossed midfield only twice.

On offense, 37-year-old quarterback John Unitas tossed a leader when three other quarterbacks were knocked off by injuries and other problems. The kid from Denville, N.J., carried W&M into the post-season event.

William and Mary, 5-6, captured four of its last six games behind Regan and nipped Richmond 34-33 to win the Southern Conference title and the match-up against mighty Toledo.

In the Richmond game Regan took his team 80 yards in 50 seconds for the winning touchdown. Regan completed 48 of 86 passes for 653 yards and three scores after starting quarterback Bubba Hooker broke his hand against The Citadel at midseason.

Toledo, however, still ranks as the strong favorite to win its second straight Tangerine crown. The Ohio powerhouse led the nation in pass defense and total defense and allowed 11 opponents only 6.9 points a game.

That makes it tough for little guy Regan and his husky running backs, Phil Mosser and Todd Bushnell. Mosser broke most of his league's ground marks with 1,286 yards and a 6.1 average. Sophomore Bushnell gained 760 in 143 attempts.

William and Mary's hopes in the line for moving tough Toledo's defenders are led by second team All-American center Bob Herb, a 218-pound senior.

Toledo has an offense almost as potent as its defense with quarterback Chuck Ealey having won back-of-the-year honors in the Mid-American Conference for the second straight season.

Hilltoppers Don't Belong, Coach Says

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

One of the four teams in tonight's semifinals of the Holiday Festival Basketball Tournament is 10th-ranked Western Kentucky—and no one's more surprised than Hilltopper Coach John Oldham.

Oldham says the Hilltoppers don't belong on the same court with 19th-rated St. John's, N.Y., if they play anything like Saturday night's first-round game at Madison Square Garden.

"St. John's will run us out of here if we don't play any better than this," Oldham said after the Hilltoppers topped smaller St. Peter's N.J., 108-97 to nail a semifinal berth in the 19th annual classic.

South Carolina's second-ranked Gamecocks, an easy 83-60 winner over Cornell in Saturday's opening round, opens tonight's doubleheader against Providence, an 89-69 conqueror of Manhattan.

St. John's the backyard favorite seeking its third Festival title, won't be an easy mark for the Jim McDaniels-led Hilltoppers, according to Oldham.

Despite a 27-point performance by the 7-foot McDaniels Saturday night, "he never played a worse game," said Oldham.

Coach Frank McGuire of South Carolina wasn't too pleased either, with his team's early efforts against outgunned Cornell. Despite the Gamecocks' 13-point advantage, McGuire felt they looked like they were rocking to sleep.

What did he do? He had them spring into a man-to-man press from a deliberate zone.

"I tried to get them out of their lethargy," said McGuire, who admitted South Carolina wasn't too excited about the opening-round game.

"It's hard to play against a hungry ball club like Cornell," he said, referring to the Big Red's 2-7 record.

Other teams in the Top Ten No. 5 Pennsylvania, No. 8 Kansas and No. 9 Kansas—also chalked up success in tournament play over the weekend.

Penn beat Syracuse 85-77 in overtime in the Quaker City Classic in Philadelphia; Kansas slugged Missouri 96-83 in the Big Eight Tournament at Kansas City and Drake whipped Canisius in the Queen City Classic at Buffalo, N.Y.

Washington State stunned No. 11 Indiana 83-80 in the Far West Classic at Portland Ore., No. 13 Villanova turned back Illinois 89-76 in the Rainbow Classic at Honolulu and Louisiana State stopped DePaul 91-72 in the All-College Tourney at Oklahoma City in other major tourneys.

The results set up these other pairings tonight:

Penn vs. Utah and St. Joseph's Pa., vs. Temple in the Quaker City semifinals; Drake vs. Niagara in the Queen City finals; Oklahoma vs. Nebraska and Colorado vs. Kansas State in the first round of the Big Eight and Wichita State vs. San Francisco and Utah State vs. Bowling Green in the All-Colleges' first round.

Also, Stanford vs. Ohio State and Harvard vs. Oregon State in the Far West Classic semifinals and Michigan vs. St. Louis and Brigham Young vs. The Army service team in the Rainbow Classic first round.

Top-rated UCLA, third-ranked Marquette, sixth-rated Southern California, No. 12 Tennessee and No. 15 St. Bonaventure get into the tournament swim this week as college basketball unleashes more than 50 Christmas classics.

UCLA meets William & Mary in the first round of the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh Tuesday; Marquette matches forces with Dartmouth in the Milwaukee Classic Tuesday; Southern Cal takes on Michigan State and Tennessee faces Houston Tuesday night in the Trojan Classic at Los Angeles and St. Bonaventure meets Bradley in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., tonight.

Other holiday tourneys include the Evansville Invitational; Las Vegas Classic; Motor City Classic at Detroit; Pointsettia Classic at Greenville, S.C.; Hall of Fame at Springfield, Mass.; Palmetto Classic at Charleston, S.C.; Midwinter Classic at Santa Barbara, Calif.; and the Roadrunner Invitational at Las Cruces, N.M.

Cavaliers on Win Streak, Two in Row

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Cavaliers are on a winning streak. Two in a row.

That may not sound like a lot for most teams, but it is for them.

"That's a heck of a streak for us," Coach Bill Fitch said Sunday night after his tattered expansion club beat the Philadelphia 76ers 114-101 in the National Basketball Association Sunday night.

The victory was extra sweet, for it was also the Cavalier's first success over an established team.

"We take all our defeats together and now we're going to take the victories," said Fitch, whose club's mark still is a painful 5-37.

Chicago beat San Diego 110-101; Los Angeles belted Phoenix 128-110; Portland spilled Boston 135-123 and New York tripped Baltimore 110-105 in Sunday's other NBA games.

In the American Basketball Association, it was Utah 135, Virginia 119; New York 114, Kentucky 108; Texas 124, Pittsburgh 116; Memphis 109, Indiana 106 and Carolina 122, Floridians 114.

In the NBA Saturday night, Cleveland beat Buffalo 120-117; Detroit turned back Chicago 117-114; Milwaukee crushed San Francisco 131-111; Cincinnati trimmed Atlanta 130-118; Phoenix bounced Portland 115-103 and Seattle ripped Boston. 124-117.

Fitch, usually eloquent in defeat, didn't have much to say after Sunday night's victory. He let his wallet do the talking instead.

Great Britain Favored in Tennis Play

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Great Britain emerged favorites to win their first Federation Cup women's tennis series with a victory over the United States in a semifinal match at Royal Kings Park Monday.

The experience of England's Ann Jones, 32, and Virginia Wade, 26, proved too much for the young American team of Patti Hogan, 22, and Sharon Walsh, 18.

The British girls won both singles to put them into Tuesday's final quarter to keep the Bulls ahead of San Diego. The Rockers managed to tie it at 94, but Love threw in 10 of the Bulls' next 14 to put it away.

Jerry West led Los Angeles with 35 points and 14 assists and Wilt Chamberlain added 28 points and Happy Hairston, 22, Neal Walk had 20 for Phoenix.

Portland hit 60 per cent from the field in the first quarter and rolled past Boston behind Geoff Petrie's 31 points and Walt Frazier scored five straight points in the final 90 seconds to break a tie for New York.

final against the winner of today's second semifinal between Australia and France.

Miss Wade beat a nervous Miss Walsh, 7-5, 6-4 and Mrs. Jones defeated Miss Hogan, 6-3, 7-5.

The No. 1 seeded Australian team won their way into Tuesday's final with a comfortable victory over France in today's other semifinal.

Evonne Goolagong, playing her first match for Australia, won her match 6-3, 3-6, 6-0, over the experienced French girl, Francoise Durr.

Grand slam winner Mrs. Margaret Court was in devastating form against France's No. 1 player Mrs. Gail Chantreau, 6-1, 6-1.

League's expansion franchises and three straight appearances in the Stanley Cup finals. Still, they can enjoy the accomplishment of showing up an established team and that's just what Salomon's club did to New York Sunday night.

Third period goals by Bill McCreary and Red Berenson earned the Blues a 4-4 tie with the Rangers in a game which saw them trailing by three goals late in the second period.

The Rangers have been unbeatable in their own rink this season going 18 games without a setback at home. So the tie, especially after trailing 3-0 and 4-1, felt awfully good to Salomon and the Blues.

It didn't sit quite as well with Emile Francis, whose Rangers have blown 4-2 leads in the third period of their last two starts.

"We just ran out of steam, that's all," said Francis. "We've had six games in nine days and another one coming up Tuesday. With all the travel in between, we're a tired hockey club."

The Rangers weren't too tired not to fight. They brawled the Blues to the tune of 80 penalty minutes including 10 majors and one misconduct whistled down by Referee Art Skov.

New York bunched first period goals by Jim Neilson, Dave Balon and Walt Tkaczuk for the early lead. Gary Sabourin of St. Louis and Pete Stelmowski of New York swapped early goals in the second period and then Jim Lorentz took advantage of some sloppy Ranger clearing to score the Blues' second goal with just 1:15 left in the middle period.

McCreary made it 4-3 less than one minute into the third period and then the Rangers pressured Blues' goalie Ernie Wakely. Berenson broke up the attack at the blue line and went the length of the rink to beat goalie Gilles Villemure for the tying goal.

A similar third-period letdown cost the Rangers five goals and a 7-4 loss in Detroit Saturday night.

Elsewhere in the NHL Sunday, Buffalo beat Detroit 5-2 and Montreal took Philadelphia 4-2.

In other Saturday games, Pittsburgh downed Boston 4-2, Chicago dropped Vancouver 4-2, St. Louis tied Minnesota 1-1, Montreal tied Buffalo 4-4, Los Angeles trampled California 9-3 and Toronto blasted Philadelphia 9-1.

Rookie Marc Tardif connected for his first NHL hat trick, scoring three times in Montreal's victory over Philadelphia.

Two goals by Tardif and one by Billy Collins had given the Canadiens a 3-0 edge but the Flyers bounced back with goals 34 seconds apart by Jimmy Johnson and Guy Hendron.

That cut Montreal's edge to 3-2 but the Canadiens tacked on a third period goal by Tardif to wrap up the victory. The loss stretched Philadelphia's winless string to eight games.

Buffalo spotted Detroit a two-goal lead and then roared back to rub out the Red Wings. Steve Atkinson keyed the comeback with two goals for the expansionist Sabres.

Power play goals by Gordie Howe—his third in two games—and Tom Webster got Detroit off in front. Then goals by Atkinson and Floyd Smith tied the score for Buffalo in the second period.

Don Marshall broke the tie for Buffalo early in the final period and then Paul Andrea connected with two Red Wings in the penalty box. Atkinson's breakaway goal capped the victory for the Sabres.

Money Pumped
 Into Buckley Campaign

By JAMES R. POLK
 Associated Press Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP) — A maze of dummy campaign committees was used to pump more than $400,000 in last-minute money into the winning Senate race of Conservative James L.

 Buckley of New York.
 The identity of the donors was kept hidden by sending the funds through false-front groups set up in Washington with names like "League of Middle American Women" and "Americans for Honesty in Politics."
 David R. Jones, campaign manager for Buckley, acknowledged the committees were created to conceal the names of donors. "That's the only reason," he said.

 The dummy committees were found in campaign reports to the Senate that also showed seven of President Nixon's ambassadors made large donations for key Republican Senate races.
 At least part of the diplomatic aid was routed through a fundraising operation run by a former White House political strategist, Jack A. Gleason.

Employment Up in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A report by the U.S. Labor Department shows that nonagricultural employment in Arkansas rose 48 per cent between 1959 and 1970.
 The Labor Department's figures put employment in Arkansas at the end of 1969 at 532,000, an increase of 172,600 over the 1959 figure.
 Mining was the only category that showed a decline in the 10-year period, dropping from 6,100 employees in 1959 to 4,500 at the end of 1969. The figure represented a decrease of 26.2 per cent.

Nightmare Disaster at Tampa Bay Bridge; Florida Notes

Editor Back Home

Your editor came home at 4:30 Saturday afternoon after a four-month absence in Sarasota, Fla., for eye and dental surgery. I am through with the cataract operation, but will have to return to Sarasota in two or three months for brief dental sessions. I am, of course, in process of losing my teeth—but, hopefully, not the editorial bite.

There would have been more editorials from Florida during my four-month absence but for two facts—first, I no sooner got used to one pair of new glasses when I had to practice all over again with another pair, and, secondly, I went through a series of rental typewriters each of which would write part of a letter and then hang up. So I did little writing but a great deal of long-distance telephoning.

It was 39 degrees and falling when I left Tampa airport at 8:30 Saturday, and 35 when I reached New Orleans an hour and 45 minutes later. The Braniff jet was 42 minutes late taking off at New Orleans but arrived in Shreveport just before 2 p.m., where Gene Allen, our head cameraman, was waiting with my car.

It's good to be back home, believe me—after the first serious break in 42 years of local service. One good report I did have—two general physical examinations which pronounced me basically O.K.

Following this is the last editorial I airmailed from Florida. Three were airmailed last Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, but General Manager Paul H. Jones tells me all three arrived in Hope the same day—caught in the Christmas Eve mail jam.

SARASOTA, Fla., Dec. 22 (By Airmail) — Many Southwest Arkansians touring the west coast of Florida have marveled over the incredible Sunshine Skyway Bridge which carries U.S. 19 traffic across Tampa Bay 150 feet above the water and cuts 25 per cent off the 50-mile run from St. Petersburg-Tampa to this Florida west coast resort town.

In this final report before boarding a National Airlines jet here for the trip home Saturday, Dec. 26—I have been away from Hope since Aug. 14 undergoing eye and dental surgery here—I think an appropriate topic is the disaster which overlook state and federal authorities when, with one fine causeway and bridge already in service, they attempted to duplicate the job with a second causeway and bridge only a few yards away, to give a divided expressway across Tampa Bay.

No special risk was apparent. I drove over the original span when down here in 1966 and saw preparations beginning for the second bridge. But when I returned for a Christmas dinner with my sisters here in 1969 I was puzzled by the discovery that the center span of the nearly-completed second bridge was being dismantled. It looked like a multi-million-dollar mistake—and so it turned out to be.

One of the main pylons supporting the central span developed a disastrous crack, and the span had to be dismantled while engineers went down to bed-rock and built a new pylon.

Now the second bridge is nearing re-completion and the second roadway is scheduled to be opened to traffic in mid-1971—a couple of years late and with millions' extra cost. Why all this?

Somewhere in highway officialdom—whether federal or state, I don't know—a $50,000 saving was attempted by handing the bridge contractor an out-of-date survey of the channel bottom instead of spending money for a new survey. The tidal action, however, had altered the underwater picture in Tampa Bay—and the massive pylon split just as the central bridge span was being completed.

So a saving of a paltry $50,000 at the beginning terminated in a

Big Enemy Attack in Cambodia

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops, some reportedly attacking from boats in the Mekong River, assaulted a Cambodian garrison in Phnom Penh's outer defense ring during the night and fighting continued today.

Unofficial reports reaching Phnom Penh said the garrison at Rokakong, 22 miles to the north, was surrounded. Allied aircraft bombed and strafed the attackers' positions during the night but the situation was described by a Cambodian military spokesman today as "confused." No casualty figures were available for either side.

North Vietnamese troops occupy positions a half-mile north of Rokakong, a district town on the Mekong's west bank. The market, on Rokakong's northern outskirts, has been the scene of frequent shooting incidents involving foraging Cambodian and enemy troops.

South Vietnamese paratroopers clearing a road 25 miles northwest of Rokakong were reported to have killed 25 of the enemy. Their Saigon headquarters said two South Vietnamese were killed and four wounded. Many enemy losses, the command said, were inflicted by air strikes.

The South Vietnamese command reported in Saigon that 34 enemy soldiers were killed in South Vietnam, half of them by local militia near Gio Linh just south of the demilitarized zone. Enemy mortar shells caused light allied casualties at a handful of government military posts, spokesmen said, but two more serious attacks hit U.S. bases.

At Camp Eagle, headquarters of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division southeast of Hue, nine 122mm rockets fell, inflicting light casualties including some deaths, the U.S. Command reported.

Nine Americans were wounded in a 40-minute mortar attack on the U.S. Air Base at Phan Thiet, 100 miles northeast of Saigon and a ground assault against an artillery position on the base's southwestern side. Enemy casualties were not known, the command said.

The incident occurred Sunday morning 62 miles northwest of Saigon.

The U.S. Command reported meanwhile, that the authorized U.S. troop strength dropped to 337,900 as of Christmas Eve, a reduction of 1,300 from the previous week.

This is the fewest Americans in Vietnam since Oct. 22, 1968, when there were 337,400. The new total is 6,100 men below the year's end target figure of 344,000 set by President Nixon.

loss of millions.

There is risk of one sort or another in the construction of any major bridge. Southwest Arkansians will recall that the present U.S. 82 bridge across Red River at Garland had to be built twice—the spans on the first job having been destroyed by a sabotage blast, forcing the contractor to rebuild.

A newspaperman is supposed to have a sharp eye for unusual signs, and on plush St. Armand's Key I spotted one proclaiming a narrow store front next door to the Pied Piper shop to be the home of the Flea Market.

The thought crossed my mind to enter and ask the proprietors if they would sell me a pair of fleas—as a Christmas present for my Boxer dog.

But it was a crisp day for Florida shopping and, doubting that humor fitted a slow business spell, I passed up the question. I did however, enter and take a quick look at the establishment's stock, and found it, as expected, to be antiques.

Antique, you know—secondhand junk in its home town, but "antique" if discovered far enough away from its origin.

Christmas Prisoners Interview Is Called Enemy Propaganda

NEW YORK (AP) — Two American pilot prisoners of war in North Vietnam say in a censored interview filmed Christmas Day that the war should be ended now. A U.S. Defense Department spokesman called the televised interview program an "enemy propaganda film."

The two prisoners, both of whom appeared physically fit, also talked about their daily routine and mail privileges in the interview conducted under the supervision of the North Vietnamese and televised Sunday night.

Five other POWs were seen at close range in the film but only U.S. Navy pilots Walter E. Wilber, 40, of Columbia Cross Roads, Pa., and Robert J. Schweitzer, 38, of Lemoore, Calif., both commanders, were allowed to answer presubmitted questions.

Wives of the two men confirmed their identification but declined to comment on the anti-war views they expressed.

The interviews were filmed by Michael MacLear, a newsman for Canadian Broadcasting Corp. following a conversation with North Vietnam's Premier Pham Van Dong whom he quoted as saying, "I swear to you these men are well treated."

MacLear said that when he questioned the premier about U.S. suspicions that the North Vietnamese hold more than the 339 Americans whose names they released in Paris last week, Dong reacted angrily.

"The Nixon people are scoundrels, scoundrels to talk like this," he quoted Dong as saying.

"It's they who have no humanitarian feelings by talking like this."

MacLear said Dong told him the list, which also included 20 POWs the North Vietnamese said had died and nine who were released, was "a full one and complete."

The location of the camp was not disclosed but the New York Times reported a U.S. official in Washington said it was the "Hanoi Hilton"—a showplace camp where other journalists have been allowed controlled visits.

Jerry Friedman, a deputy assistant defense secretary, said: "We would of course have no comment on a censored enemy propaganda film showing only a handful of known prisoners. It is one more example of the refusal of North Vietnam to conduct itself as a civilized signatory of the Geneva Convention. Were that convention adhered to, there would be impartial inspection and contact direct with the POWs, rather than censored films. In addition, we continue to be concerned for the prisoners and the missing, not just in North Vietnam, but also South Vietnam and Laos."

The interview was broadcast by NBC-TV and CBS-TV.

Conviction under Article 72 carries a maximum penalty of death, while Article 70 carries a maximum sentence of 10 years in a labor camp.

Five Persons Are Killed in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An Associated Press count showed that five persons were killed on the state's highways during the 78-hour Christmas holiday weekend.

State Police Director Ralph Scott said that "while the 1970 Christmas weekend death toll was considerably less than the 1969 toll when 16 persons were killed, it was still a regrettable loss of life."

Scott said this year's toll was the lowest since 1963 when only one person was killed during the Christmas weekend.

The victims were: — Jerry Allen, 19, of Wickes (Polk County), killed Saturday when his car rolled over on U.S. 71 about two miles north of Wickes.

—Russell Roush, 44, of Dolph (Izard County), killed Thursday night in a two-car collision on Arkansas 223 about 1½ miles north of Viola (Fulton County).

—Boyd Shrabie, 19, of Viola, killed in the same crash that took the life of Roush.

—Edgar Landrum, 81, of Paragould, who died Saturday night hours after struck by a car as he walked across a Paragould street.

—Fern Hammock, 15, of Warren, killed Sunday in a two-car accident on Arkansas 4 near Warren.

Israel Has Decided to Revive Talks

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel has decided to return to the Middle East peace talks at the United Nations with Egypt and Jordan, Prime Minister Golda Meir announced today.

Mrs. Meir reported the decision to newsmen after a special meeting of the Israeli Cabinet.

Israel suspended its participation in the talks on Sept. 6 because, it contended, there had been an Egyptian missile buildup in the Suez Canal area in violation of the Middle East cease-fire.

It was considered possible the senate would act today to overcome another impasse, the $66.6 billion defense appropriation bill.

That measure had been snagged because of a provision, fought by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., authorizing President Nixon to use U.S. troops in

Nixon Leaves Doctor Issue Unsigned

By JOHN STOWELL

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has returned from his chilly, snow-covered mountain retreat where he spent the weekend working on foreign policy, the new budget and the 1971 legislative program.

But the weekend's labor also dealt with Congress' work this year; he signed a population control bill but rejected a measure designed to ease the family doctor shortage.

The White House said Nixon refused to sign the physician training bill and considered it a pocket veto because Congress was "adjourned" for the Christmas holidays when he acted.

But Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., chief sponsor of the $225 million measure, said his staff is studying the action to see if Congress has a right to vote on the veto.

When Congress is in session, the President can only veto a bill by sending it back to Congress. But when Congress stands adjourned, the bill is pocket vetoed when it is simply held 10 days beyond the date for required executive action without the president's signature.

Congress was in Christmas recess when the 10-day period ended.

In other action over the holiday weekend, the chief executive wrote letters of encouragement to families of American prisoners of war in Southeast Asia and the White House announced U.S. forces in Vietnam hope to phase out use of all herbicides by next spring.

48 Rescued From Two Sinking Ships

NEW YORK (AP) — Forty-eight crewmen were reported rescued today from two sinking tankers hundreds of miles apart in the Atlantic Ocean. Separate searches for 27 others continued, the Coast Guard said.

The U.S. Coast Guard said the Norwegian vessel Ross Mt. picked up 17 crewmen, including the master, of the Panamanian tanker Chryssie, which was sinking 270 miles southwest of Bermuda.

Earlier, a U.S. Coast Guard cutter rescued 31 men from the broken stern section of a Finnish tanker that split in two in heavy seas 600 miles southeast of New York City.

The Coast Guard at Elizabeth City, N.C., said a search plane over the site of the Chryssie overheard a radio message from the Ross Mt. that a life boat containing the 17 men had been picked up. The message said 21 crewmen were still missing.

The plane also reported spotting an oil slick 30 miles wide around the tanker.

The aircraft had been diverted from the search for the bow section of the Finnish tanker Ragny. The bow of the Ragny carried its master chief engineer and four other crewmen, stranded forward when the vessel broke up Sunday.

A man was lost in an unsuccessful rescue try at the Finnish vessel Sunday night.

The cutter Escanaba reported the 31 rescued Finnish crewmen to be in good condition and said they would remain aboard until the search was completed.

The bow section overturned and drifted away during the darkness and the searchers were attempting to locate it. The six men aboard were believed lost.

Vessels that reached the area of the Ragny Sunday night had to ride out a North Atlantic storm before making the rescue. Seas in the area remained heavy with 15 to 20-foot waves.

One man from the American Tanker S.S. Platte—first vessel on the scene—was lost when a small boat capsized during an abortive rescue attempt Sunday night. Six others were injured.

Favorable to Reorganization Legislation

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers probably will find that the legislature has a "sympathetic ear" to his governmental reorganization proposals, Rep. Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs said Saturday.

"I know that most of the people I've talked with in the legislature are eager to utilize every economy possible for the people of the state," said Smith, who is in line to become Speaker of the House.

Smith, commenting in an interview, said he could see areas where consolidations could be beneficial.

Man Held in Fatal Shooting

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — Authorities here said Sunday that a man had been taken into custody but not charged in connection with the shooting death of Mrs. Lou Feagin, 31, of Springdale.

Capt. Joe Sims of the Springdale police said the woman was shot twice Saturday morning with a rifle at her home.

Shot to Death at Nashville

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A man was being held Sunday in connection with the shooting death Christmas Day of Finis O. Dixon, 23, of Nashville, Howard County authorities said.

No charge has been filed. Dixon was shot once with a pistol Friday morning at a Nashville residence, officials said.

Temperatures to Change Very Little

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Little change in temperatures in Arkansas is expected through Tuesday.

Highs today and Tuesday were forecast mostly in the 50s. Lows tonight are forecast in the 20s north to the 30s south.

Cloudiness should decrease over the southern portion of the state this afternoon with clear to partly cloudy skies expected over the state tonight and Tuesday.

A low pressure system off the Washington and Oregon coasts is expected to move southeastward and may begin to affect Arkansas' weather by Wednesday night or Thursday.

No rainfall was reported in the state during the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m.

Congress Ends Recess, Still Looking for a Way Out of Quandry

By WALTER R. MEARS

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate ended its Christmas recess today, its leaders still looking for a way out of its SST quandry so the 91st Congress can adjourn for good, perhaps by New Year's Eve.

The House, with most of its business finished, returns Tuesday to wait for the Senate to break the deadlock over the $210 million supersonic transport plane appropriation, the major barrier to a congressional wind-up.

It was considered possible the senate would act today to overcome another impasse, the $66.6 billion defense appropriation bill.

That measure had been snagged because of a provision, fought by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., authorizing President Nixon to use U.S. troops in

Nixon Leaves Doctor Issue Unsigned

By JOHN STOWELL

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has returned from his chilly, snow-covered mountain retreat where he spent the weekend working on foreign policy, the new budget and the 1971 legislative program.

But the weekend's labor also dealt with Congress' work this year; he signed a population control bill but rejected a measure designed to ease the family doctor shortage.

The White House said Nixon refused to sign the physician training bill and considered it a pocket veto because Congress was "adjourned" for the Christmas holidays when he acted.

But Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., chief sponsor of the $225 million measure, said his staff is studying the action to see if Congress has a right to vote on the veto.

When Congress is in session, the President can only veto a bill by sending it back to Congress. But when Congress stands adjourned, the bill is pocket vetoed when it is simply held 10 days beyond the date for required executive action without the president's signature.

Congress was in Christmas recess when the 10-day period ended.

In other action over the holiday weekend, the chief executive wrote letters of encouragement to families of American prisoners of war in Southeast Asia and the White House announced U.S. forces in Vietnam hope to phase out use of all herbicides by next spring.

Three Kidnap Suspects Held in Canada

MONTREAL (AP) — Three prime suspects in the kidnap murder of Pierre Laporte, Quebec labor minister, were arrested today.

A spokesman for Premier Robert Bourassa announced the arrests and identified the suspects as Paul Rose, Jacques Rose and Francis Simard.

Laporte was seized in October and found dead a week later.

Paul Rose, 27, had been sought in connection with the kidnappings of both Laporte and James R. Cross, the British trade minister who was released by the abductors Dec. 4 after two months in captivity.

Jacques Rose, 23, and Simard, also 23, were listed in a warrant issued on Oct. 24 charging them with conspiracy in Laporte's abduction.

Marc Carboneau, 37, also was sought in connection with Laporte's kidnapping but he was allowed to fly to Cuba with three other members of the Quebec Liberation Front on Dec. 4 as a condition for Cross' freedom.

Laporte was kidnapped on Oct. 10—five days after Cross' abduction—and was found slain a week later.

Holiday Toll on Highways Reaches 484

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Automobile accidents on the nation's streets and highways claimed 484 lives over the three-day Christmas holiday weekend, but the total was lower than predicted.

Although icy rain and snow hampered driving over much of the nation during the first hours of the weekend, dry, cold weather in the last two days improved road conditions.

The National Safety Council had estimated that from 550 to 650 persons would die in traffic crashes during the 78 hours. The traffic count began at 6 p.m. local time Thursday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The record high toll since World War II for the three-day celebration of Christmas was 720 in 1965, also a record three-day holiday. The record low for the three-day observance of Christmas since World War II was 413 in 1949.

Man to Trial Second Time for Murder

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Jury selection was to continue today in the retrial of Clyde Ray Glover, 37, of Paragould.

Glover is being tried in Circuit Court here in connection with the death of Judy Evans, 20, of Rector, whose burned body was found in the burning remains of her father's automobile in a gravel pit near Paragould on March 1, 1969.

Glover was charged with beating Miss Evans to death with his fists and a bumper jack.

He was convicted of first degree murder in late 1969, but his conviction was reversed last June by the state Supreme Court on grounds that Judge Charles W. Light erred by overruling challenges Glover's attorney made against four prospective jurors.

Seven jurors have been seated for the retrial.

Blight on Your Social Life?

Bad Breath? Consult Doctor

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am a teen-age girl, 17, desperate to know the possible causes of bad breath. Despite religious oral hygiene—brushing and mouthwash after any food intake—I am still plagued by this. Could the presence of impacted teeth be a cause? Please help me if you are able; this is really hurting my social life.

Dear Reader—I can well understand your distress but you have won half the battle. Many people don't know when they have bad breath.

You are right in maintaining good oral hygiene but despite the toothpaste and mouthwash ads there are many other causes for bad breath. A diseased or infected tooth can cause the problem; in fact, any infection in the mouth can. An impacted tooth without infection though is not likely to be the cause.

A chronic sinus infection can cause foul breath as can infected tonsils or any other infection of the respiratory tract. This includes the lungs permit pooling of secretions or give off bad odors. Of course, tobacco gives a characteristic odor and contributes to poor oral hygiene and sometimes to lung disease and sinusitis.

The digestive tract is a frequent cause for bad breath. I don't mean constipation, although laxatives can be the culprit. Rarely, food may be trapped in the lower esophagus, giving off foul odors. Many of the disorders of the digestive tract resulting in bad breath are not serious and are often the result of an overactive stomach and intestines. Anxiety may contribute to the overactivity. Gall bladder disease or anything that disturbs the normal digestive process can lead to bad breath.

Some women develop bad breath just before and during their menstrual cycle; in fact, anything that changes the body chemistry can cause bad breath. After all, the body is a complex chemical factory and like all chemistry laboratories does emit odors.

Now what to do about your problem? It is unlikely that you are going to be very successful in solving it yourself. You might feel that certain foods are particularly bad for you or if you smoke that stopping would relieve a chronic sinus condition causing bad breath, but you will probably need the help of a physician. By starting at the mouth, checking the sinuses, the lungs and the digestive tract he can help you.

Besides, you will save a lot of money that you are wasting on mouthwashes and gargles.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I'm 14 and have a fast heart lots of times, then it gets O.K. again. My teacher says you cured an astronaut of the same thing. Can I be cured? I can't play sports because my heart might beat fast.

Dear Reader—It isn't possible to tell if you can prevent a heart from beating too fast or having an irregularity unless you know what causes the problem. Sometimes it is because the thyroid gland is overactive and correcting this condition solves the problem. In a few cases it is because of something wrong with the heart. In many cases there is no apparent cause but medicine can still be taken to help with the problem.

I hate to see you miss out on sports. If you haven't been to a heart specialist, why don't you see if your parents or teacher can help you arrange to see one?

Mercury in Fish Search Intensified

By G. C. THELEN Jr.

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has intensified its search for further evidence of mercury pollution after swordfish joined tuna on the list of ocean fish tainted with the poison.

The Food and Drug Administration said Thursday 89 per cent of frozen swordfish samples tested contained mercury in excess of the federal guidelines—0.5 parts per million (ppm).

The finding spurred the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration to announce a speedup in its hunt for mercury in other fish, additional geographic areas, and lower forms of marine life.

And the FDA launched a massive recall of swordfish that officials said will eventually affect most stocks of virtually all brand names. No list of recalled brands was immediately available.

Japan, the major swordfish supplier for the United States, has agreed to halt further shipments until a mercury-monitoring program is established there, the FDA said.

The agency initiated its cautionary statement of last week when 23 per cent of canned tuna samples were found tainted with mercury. "There is no cause for alarm as to an immediate health hazard as a result of the swordfish findings."

Jim: "You say he was a pretty good player. Obviously, he wasn't a very good player because he wouldn't have needed to guess the end position."

Oswald: "That's correct. West won the ace and king of hearts and shifted to the four of diamonds in spite of his partner's high-low in hearts. South played the ace of diamonds. Then he ran off all his trumps while discarding down to the queen of diamonds and ace-queen of clubs in dummy. East, discarding in back of dummy wound up holding the king-eight of diamonds and the singleton king of clubs. It was up to South to decide if East had blanked the diamond king and kept the club king guarded. South did make the right decision."

Jim: "Most of our readers will have seen that South could have avoided that final guess if he had just used the R in the code word ARCH."

Oswald: "R stands for Review the bidding. If South had reviewed the bidding he would have seen that West had dealt and passed when holding six hearts to the four top honors. This would mark East with both minor-suit kings."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Patrick Henry made his famous revolutionary speech at the Virginia Convention, March 23, 1775. Calling for organizing the defenses of the colony, The World Almanac notes, Henry said: "Is life so dear, or sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take, but for me, give me liberty or give me death!"

Tree Disposal Is Problem of Pollution

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer
"Tis the season to be pollution conscious. And the concern over the quality of the atmosphere poses problems for cities trying to dispose of thousands of Christmas trees after the holidays.

An Associated Press survey showed most cities have banned open-air burning and instead collect the trees and use them for landfill.

Conservation groups in some areas have other suggestions, however.

The Detroit Outdoorsmen, an affiliate of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, collects trees and hauls them to the northern part of the state for use as deer browse. The state group also suggests the trees be distributed in wooded areas for use as cover for rabbits and other small wildlife.

The Babe Ruth Baseball Association in Salem, Mass., raises money through a tree-collection program. Members pick up trees at a cost of 50 cents each, inspect them for nails and wire and turns them over to the city which puts the trees through a chipper or shredding machine to get mulch for erosion control on the slopes in city parks.

The Missouri Department of Conservation suggests homeowners make bird-feeding stations out of the trees, anchoring them in the backyard and covering them with such things as suet and fruit. The department also says that when several trees are wired together, weighted and sunk to the bottom of a lake, they make good cover for fish.

In California, a spokesman for the Sierra Club said his group had been trying to get people "to buy living trees and give them to the U.S. Forest Service after Christmas" for replanting. He acknowledged, however, that "live pine trees have been in short supply in the nurseries and pretty expensive too. You can't ask people to buy trees that don't exist."

Cincinnati's Environmental Coordinating Organization ran a similar drive and will collect the live trees and plant them in nearby open areas.

Typical of many cities is New York where the sanitation department has special post-Christmas truck runs to pick up the trees which are put through a chipper, then buried at landfill sites. A department spokesman says the collection procedure takes about 10 days.

Artificial trees are one solution. Ralph Hulsey, superintendent of sanitation in Atlanta, estimated more than 200,000 trees would have to be disposed of in the area, then added: "I use an artificial tree. I really think this is the solution. Not only do you solve the problem of disposal, you lessen the fire hazard."

There are exceptions to the antiburning rules—namely in areas where Epiphany bonfires 12 nights after Christmas are traditional.

In Denver, a spokesman for the pollution board said the 12th night bonfires were considered "recreational burns" and exempt from pollution laws.

Massachusetts officials told residents of Marblehead their plan to burn trees on a beach causeway in a traditional celebration was illegal. But the city Board of Health decided not to oppose the plan and a spokesman said, "If the sponsors of a 12th night program want to burn Christmas trees and greens at River Head Beach as they have for so many years, the Board of Health will let them do it."

Not so in Kansas City. The director of air pollution control refused to issue a special permit for the Epiphany burning traditionally held in a city park and the Recreation Department canceled the program.

STILL ROLLING ALONG after 80 years, the seamless steel tube has come a long way since horse and buggy days. The tube, first developed and produced in Shelby, Ohio, in 1890, was exhibited that same year in a Fourth of July parade there (top). Today, it's a major component in landing gear systems of aircraft such as C-5A (center) and instrument systems for spacecraft.

Jim French Strengthens Credentials

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim French has strengthened his credentials as a contender for the 1971 Kentucky Derby.

The son of Graustark closed out his 2-year-old campaign impressively by outgaming Sir Dagonet in the stretch drive to win the Miami Beach Handicap by a head at Tropical Park last Saturday.

The manner in which the colt circled the field from eighth place on the outside for his third straight triumph indicated the winner of the Remsen Stakes at Aqueduct rates a strong contender as a 3-year-old for the Derby at Churchill Downs in May.

Frank Iannelli, who rode Sir Dagonet, claimed foul against Heliodoro Gustines on Jim French, but the films showed Sir Dagonet had come out on the winner instead of Jim French coming in on the runner-up.

Jim French ran the 11-16 miles in 1:44.5 and paid $7.40. A crowd of 53,730, which wagered $3,995,599, turned out for the opening of Santa Anita and saw Bold Joey, a 15-1 outsider, win the $66,100 California Breeder's Champion Stakes.

Ad Majora, $6.80, made it four in a row with a five-length victory in the Hessian Handicap at Liberty Bell. Towzie Tyke, $5, won the Capitol Handicap at Laurel and Alhambra Gal, a $46.40 long shot, won the Sugar Bowl Handicap at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans.

Russia Using Sex to Trap Diplomats

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Soviet secret police agent has told the Senate of a Russian Mat-Hari-type scheme designed to compromise foreign diplomats by supplying them and their wives with a stream of attractive bed partners.

In testimony released Sunday, Yuri Krotkov, who appeared under the name of George Karlin, said "there is a colossal institute of co-opted Soviet girls" kept for diplomats, as well as handsome Russian men used to form romantic liaisons with women attached to embassies in Moscow, including the wives of ambassadors.

He named some highly placed diplomats and their wives as he told of love affairs, seductions and attempted seductions. Karlin said he knew of some incidents first hand, but others were hearsay.

All the same, he told the Senate investigators, such operations often failed in establishing blackmail opportunities because the diplomats knew what to expect.

He said a typical KGB—Soviet secret police—joke was a remark attributed to an American diplomat in Moscow that "the KGB supplies us each week with another blonde girl, like they change the sheets in the hotel each week."

The use of winsome women for espionage and blackmail is nothing new in affairs of state, with famous incidents popping up all through history. Perhaps the most notorious involved Mata Hari, a Dutch-born dancer used by the Germans in World War I to pry secrets from Allied agents.

She was caught and executed by the French in 1917.

Karlin said in his testimony he was a Soviet playwright, screen writer and radio correspondent until he defected to London in 1963. He said he was "co-opted," or recruited, by the KGB in 1946 while a correspondent for Moscow Radio.

He testified a former French ambassador to Russia, Maurice Dejean, had sexual relations with several Russian women he had provided. He said he had no official knowledge of the result of the espionage plan, but added one of his superiors said, "Our operation with the French ambassador was one of the greatest in the history of KGB's inside operations."

Karlin testified behind closed doors nine days before the Senate internal security subcommittee. Some of the information contained in the three volumes of testimony previously has been published in a magazine article.

Xavier is a Spanish name meaning "fascinating."

Failing Bill Is Money Down Drain

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major bill that fails to be enacted, like a major business that goes bankrupt, represents a huge amount of money and effort down the drain.

The trade bill, tied up in the Senate and apparently doomed to die with the 91st Congress, provides a clear example.

Nobody will ever know exactly how much public and private money was spent on the preparation of the complex and controversial measure, with its provisions for import quotas, and on efforts to influence opinion about it. But available evidence indicates the total could top $1 million.

The price of transcribing testimony and of official printing alone is a formidable item. An estimate based on known costs points to an outlay of more than $100,000.

Congressional work on the bill got under way toward the end of 1969 when the staff of the House Ways and Means Committee, working with Tariff Commission experts, began putting together statistical and other background information. Their product was a 425-page book, produced by the Government Printing Office for the use of the committee.

The committee opened hearings May 11, 1970. In 23 days of sessions, it heard more than 400 witnesses, who appeared at their own—or their businesses'—expense, armed with at least 50 copies of their testimony.

When the GPO printed the testimony, it ran to 4,651 pages, bound into 16 volumes. After hearing witnesses in public, the committee went into executive session covering 21 working days to decide on the provisions.

By that time, work on the measure was taking the full time of a half-dozen high level professional staff members. Additionally, the executive sessions were attended daily by professional level representatives of the State, Commerce, Labor, Interior, Treasury and Agriculture departments, the Tariff Commission and the office of the U.S. Trade Negotiator.

When the sessions ended with decisions made, the staff work of putting the bill into legislative language and writing a report to explain it continued. The bill itself ran to 96 pages and the report to 190. Both were printed in quantity.

When the contents of the committee bill became known, lobbying and propaganda efforts by industries, unions and other interests affected redoubled. House debate on the bill, conducted under the customary tight rules permitting no amendments on revenue measures, took two days. Passage sent the bill—and the action—to the Senate.

There the process of committee consideration was repeated, though on a smaller scale. The Senate Finance Committee held only brief hearings. As the Senate, delayed by disputes and filibuster threats, found itself facing a mountain of undone business, the committee decided to consolidate welfare, Social Security and trade legislation into one mammoth bill.

But with mandatory adjournment around the corner, the Senate has not agreed on such a measure and House leaders have served notice that even if the other chamber produces a bill, legislation of this magnitude cannot be revised and agreed to in the few remaining days of the 91st Congress.

Some of the work done on what would have been the Trade Act of 1970 presumably could be salvaged if Congress makes a fresh start on the subject in 1971—as it is expected to do.

But, while the welfare and Social Security bills are to be reintroduced as they passed the House, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee has said he wants to consider changes in the trade legislation.

This seems to indicate a re-opening and possibly new hearings that inevitably would duplicate some of 1970's work.

Postal, Draft Reform Top Achievements

By MIKE REILLY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key Nixon administration officials say postal and draft reform top the list of achievements in the first two years in office.

Four aides briefed newsmen midway through the holiday week, giving emphasis to progress in domestic and diplomatic fields and criticizing Congress for not passing major Nixon proposals.

Ground rules of the briefing prevented identifying the aides and held release of their observations until the weekend.

Domestically, in addition to postal and draft changes, the Nixon years have brought swift but peaceful school desegregation, an aide said. He cited the change since 1968 when 6.1 per cent of Negroes in the 11 Southern states attended desegregated schools. Now 90 per cent are in desegregated programs.

Society when Nixon took office was "very much off balance," but the changes wrought since then have brought "a new sense of balance," another aide said.

It was stated by another that "there has been a remarkable change in mood" with a great reduction in disturbances in ghetto areas.

The aide also said minority group employment has increased, reducing the almost two-to-one ratio of unemployed blacks to unemployed whites to a rate of 7.2 per cent for blacks and 4.5 per cent for whites.

Congressional foot-dragging hurt Nixon policies and reforms, an aide said. There was particular disappointment and concern, he said, about the failure of Congress to act on revenue sharing, late passage of appropriations and Senate inaction that has virtually wiped out any chance for passage this year of welfare reforms.

The President's revenue sharing plan never even reached the hearing stage in Congress. But, the administration is expected to boost it once more in the 92nd Congress with an even greater request than the proposed $5 billion five-year plan.

Only one nation makes up the United Arab Republic—Egypt.

Southeast Asia as he deems necessary to insure orderly withdrawal of American forces from South Vietnam, or to gain the release of prisoners of war.

In an effort to break the SST deadlock, the Senate's leaders, Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., have proposed a resolution seeking a compromise that would continue SST spending until March 30, with Congress to decide on a permanent settlement next year.

Their plan would pry the SST loose from the $7 billion transportation appropriations bill, which must be passed before adjournment to keep the money coming for the agencies it covers.

But SST promoters, chief among them Democratic Sens. Henry M. Jackson and Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, don't want the subsidy handled as a separate issue.

For without the big transportation money bill as hostage, the odds are the Senate would vote, as it did before, to halt SST funding altogether.

So far, opponents of the SST, lead by Sen. William Proxmire,

D-Wis., have been waging a polite filibuster—three hours or so each day—against the compromise appropriation bill.

The resolution Mansfield and Scott proposed would, in effect, reverse the situation: advocates of the SST spending would have to do the legislative blocking to prevent their suggested settlement.

If that happens, the result could be a move sanctioned by the leaders to table—and thus kill—the compromise transportation appropriations bill.

That would force a new round of negotiations with the House to draw up new terms for the measure. The House previously voted the $290 million in SST funds sought by President Nixon. A conference committee came up with the $210 million figure.

As for the defense spending bill, Fulbright and his allies considered the presidential option provision, originally a House product, the undoing of Senate restrictions against the use of U.S. ground forces in Southeast Asia outside South Vietnam.

As a result, they sought Senate rejection of that compromise bill, and a new conference with the House on final terms for that bill.

A third appropriations bill,

providing $18 billion for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, also is snagged in the Senate. The House has approved that one.

Magnuson, senior member of the appropriations panel that handled that bill, has delayed action on that measure in an apparent move to increase its leverage in dealing on the SST controversy.

A $2.53 billion appropriation for foreign aid is bound for a new round of House-Senate negotiations. The Senate rejected that one because it includes $200 million in foreign military sales funds not cleared by Congress in authorizing legislation.

The Senate is expected to pass early this week a $1.8 billion supplemental appropriations bill including $255 million worth of aid for Cambodia, and $500 million to help bolster Israel's armed forces.

In the end, those appropriations, and a $3.4 billion package of automobile and telephone excise taxes, coupled with a speed-up of estate tax collections, may be about all Congress can manage before it has to go out of business Jan. 3.

The House and Senate have agreed to defer the opening of the 92nd Congress until Jan. 21.

By ROGER DOUGHTY

BLITZING THROUGH—Latest hard-rocking group to smash ashore in the States is May Blitz, headed by Tony Newman, former drummer with Jeff Beck. Jeff holds the North American record for breaking ear drums and Tony had a lot to do with that. Anyway, Blitz blitzed into New York recently and blew down the town. James Black and Reid Hudson, a couple of Canadians who were making the London scene, joined with Tony to form the group in January 1970 and they've come a long way in a hurry. Check out their first Paramount LP (called May Blitz, of course) and see what you think. We liked "Tomorrow May Come" and "Smoking the Day Away" best of all, but there's a lot going on in every groove.

May Blitz

HANGING IN THERE—Hal Sloane, the genial promotion man who took off for Japan to stage a super rock scene (called Fuji Odyssey) while ago is still there, even though the Odyssey never came to pass. Even Hal isn't sure what all went wrong, but he's hard at work now on what he calls a "one-stop shopping service" for any foreigner planning to do business in Japan, particularly in the areas of promotion, production and publicity. Good thing to know in case you're ever rocking around Tokyo.

DECORATION DITTIES—If you're thinking about doing some redecorating of the old digs, here are a few tips from Rudolph Salazar, interior decorating genius for AMRET Corp. who is currently hard at work at Rio Rancho Estates near Albuquerque, N.M. "You can form your own atmosphere in any surroundings," says Rudy, "but if you want to go with what's 'in,' stick to bright colors, lots of chrome and printed velvets. Massive lamps are favored by young people now, and so are shag carpets. To really make a place 'you,' pick out one thing you really like, like an Early American chair, and stick it right in the middle of a psychedelic setting, just to be different."

DRINK THINK—While you're all hearing the evils of drugs most of the time (and nobody can deny that the message needs to be put across), Dr. Luther Cloud, president of the National Council on Alcoholism, thinks parents and teachers should be telling you more about alcoholism, too. Dr. Cloud says that one of every 13 people is an alcoholic.

BOAT NOTES—If your dream is to someday become a millionaire and buy a yacht, be advised (according to David Parker of Hatteras) that most millionaires who have yachts don't buy them—they rent them. If you want one, though, there will be a dandy at the National Boat Show in New York Jan. 23-30 (if you like 70-footers) that you can pick up for $365,000.

NIGHT LIGHTS—Many students around the country are finding different ways to do something about cutting down on the rise of crime in their areas. And you don't have to be a Junior G-Man to help, either. Take, for example, the Case Western Reserve student in Cleveland who started a one-man newspaper campaign to lobby for additional lights on campus by writing to Action Line in the Cleveland Press. School and civic officials took it from there and a new lighting system for the area is on the way. Another bright idea from campus.

COMING UP—Full details about Youth Beat's first Performers of the Year Poll will be yours next week. Stay tuned.
